Who do I call?

We have received some questions, feedback and frustration on who to call for a variety of violations. We hope this helps you to make that decision.

A crime in progress, fire, or emergency should be reported to 911.

LDPS is able to respond to a variety of calls for service.

We are tasked with the enforcement of municipal bylaws for the District of Lakeland. This includes but is not limited to:

- animal complaints regarding cats or dog
- fires during a fire ban
- noise complaints
- unsightly or dilapidated property
- grey water and sewage dumping
- parking

We will respond as we can to emergency calls relating to most provincial offences, and some federal offences. This is an initiative started in the province to allow closer officials to be on scene in a shorter amount of time. This may include traffic related offences like speeding, manner of driving, alcohol/drug use, trespassing, and ATV use, alcohol violations like drinking in public, minors possessing beverage alcohol, and illegal cannabis use.

While we can't tell you who to call, most calls for service can start with the RCMP. If you call our office and the call is to be dealt with by another agency we will forward that call for you.

If you have any further questions please contact us.

Please note that when calling our office to report a matter we require you to provide your information to the dispatcher. Anonymous calls, or calls where the caller refuses to leave call back information, including telephone number or name, will not be responded to.

Please be aware of the parking bylaw for the municipality. Illegally-parked vehicles are subject to being towed away at the owners expense, in addition to any issued parking ticket. Parking in municipal reserves, overnight in designated parking lots, or blocking someone's access are all offences that could result in being towed.

It's Canada Road Safety Week from May 14th - May 20th.

LDPS, along with law enforcement from municipal police services, RCMP, and Ministry of Environment will be conducting several check-stops, and increased enforcement though out the long weekend. An increase in patrols and presence will be seen.

Please continue to do your part and practice safe driving. Watch your speed, give yourself plenty of time to travel. Please no alcohol or drugs or driving while fatigued. Use seatbelts, make sure those young children are properly restrained. Keep an eye out for slower moving vehicles and machinery.

Visit CACP's website for more details on the initiative.

Noise Complaint

Loud parties, fireworks, excessive barking, and equipment operating after dark?

Calls for noise complaints or loud parties are investigated. We may require the complainant to provide a statement to us on the activity they are calling about. This is required for noise complaints regarding any noise that may annoy, disturb or injury you.

Protect and Response Team

LDPS continues to work toward being able to fully respond to PRT calls the present a high priority and lower risk. This includes fires, motor vehicle collisions, and sudden deaths. We will be joining Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Officers, Conservation Officers, Municipal Police and RCMP in being able to quickly respond to the public's call.
